SOCIETY NOTES.

Happenings About the City Among the Socially Inclined.

The postponed reception of the Y. M. C. A. takes place Wednesday evening. The young people of St. Pauls will have charge of the exercises.

We understand that Miss Arta Cody, daughter of Buffalo Bill, is creating quite a sensation in society circles at Manchester, Eng. Her many friends in Lincoln will be pleased to learn this, and wish her a most enjoyable winter.

A pleasant gathering at the home of Miss Grace Snelling, corner Sixteenth and Elm streets, was enjoyed Monday evening, dancing, card-playing, etc. Among those in attendance were Messrs. E. E. Henkle, J. V. Putnam, B. H. Kingsbury, Misses Mougher, Darrow and Snelling.

Mrs. Alex. Allen entertained a few friends at dinner Friday evening, the 20th inst., complimentary to her sister, Miss Helen Francklyn of New York. Mrs. Allen's reputation as a hostess makes any further mention superfluous. Miss Francklyn will probably spend the winter with her sister.

The names of those who spent a very pleasant evening at the guests of Misses Bettie and Carrie Leland, at their home, 945 F Street, were: Misses Chic Brown and Gertie Marquette, and Messrs. Henkle, Hefflinger, Kingsbury and Geo. McArthur. The evening was passed at dancing and cards.

Miss Hyers, who resides at the penitentiary, and Miss Latta entertained some twenty of their friends on Tuesday evening. The time was very pleasantly spent at dancing, cards and other amusements. Those in attendance were: Misses Somerlad, Griffith, Robertson Moran, Jones, Hyers, Irvine, Latta, Messrs. Culbertson, Cameron, Olds, Wells, Aitken and Temple.

Col. Hyde, the jovial and whole souled editor of the News, reached his fifty-ninth birthday last Saturday, a fact he had forgotten until he reached home in the evening and was pleasantly surprised by a numerous company who came to bid him many returns of the day. Mr. Hyde is one of the pioneers of Lincoln, and has devoted much time and money to the advancement of the city's interests.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ewing entertained a few friends at 7 o'clock tea on Friday evening, the 20th inst., it being the second anniversary of their wedding. We were unable to obtain a list of the invited guests, but it is unnecessary to mention that a most pleasant evening was spent. That Mr. and Mrs. Ewing may have many more celebrations of the same character, is the heartfelt wish of the Courier.

We omitted to mention in our last issue that a very enjoyable sleighing party was given by Mr. Frank C. Zehrung, and judging from former merry gatherings given by him we can safely say that those who were the happy participants had a most enjoyable time. From the latest reports we learn no one was lost in the snow and no ears were frozen. (The twenty degrees below zero.) Come again, Frank!

We learn the Thursday of the blizzard, 300 cutters composed a sleighing party of Omaha people en route to Council Bluffs. Whether they reached the city before the storm has not yet been ascertained, but judging from the sudden increase in business at the Bluffs the next day we venture the remark that the hotel keepers and liveries have something of a joke on Omaha. Moral, never start out in a storm; you can go to Council Bluffs when you can't go anywhere else.

Several proposals have already been received by the "eligible young men" who so modestly and with bashful hesitation submitted their names to the New Year's Journal. Many have been cheerfully accepted, and now corner lots are cheap (cash preferred). Strange as it may seem these proposals have come from parties out of town (not the asylum), one or two by telephone. Why do Lincoln's fair ladies insist on being so modest! Alas! '92 will come before they will begin to realize what a grand chance they are missing.

Mr. E. T. Roberts is out again, after a severe spell of illness.

Mrs. May of Chicago is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. R. Dennis.

Miss Gretchen Marquette left Wednesday for a short visit to Ashland.

George McArthur left Wednesday for St. Paul to take in the Ice Palace again.

Miss Oetta Hurlbut is home again after a visit of several months at Red Cloud.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Campbell, after a serious illness, are both able to be out again.

Mr. Hal Norton of Riverton, is enjoying a visit of several weeks at home in this city.

Mr. L. M. Tyler, the handsome city agent of the Elkhorn, spent Sunday in Fremont.

Mr. F. C. Fluke and wife left Tuesday, the former for St. Paul and the latter for Utica, N. Y.

Mrs. R. N. Parks and Prof. F. M. Gibault took part in the musical convention at Waverly this week.

Mr. C. E. Root of the Journal, is enjoying a vacation in St. Paul, taking in the ice palace and other sights.

Mr. J. D. Calhoun, editor of the Democrat, was confined to his home several days this week with pneumonia.

Hon. James B. Strode is recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism which housed him for about ten days.

West Lincoln Hose Co. No. 1 will give one of their enjoyable dances in Halter's hall some evening next week.

Mrs. E. I. Thompson of Creston, Iowa, and Miss Lydia Conner of Mt. Pleasant are guests of their sister, Mrs. J. A. Keith.

Mr. C. H. Holbrook, of the stationery firm of Holbrook & Bonbright, paid his former home, Des Moines, a visit this week.

Mr. Charles Herold returned Wednesday after having visited New York, Philadelphia and other cities for the past two weeks.

Mr. W. H. Hovey, of Sioux City, arrived in the city yesterday on a short visit. Mr. Hovey is Sioux City's popular dancing teacher.

Mrs. Westermann of Decatur, Ill., arrived in the city Monday to be at the bedside of her son, Mr. H. T. Westermann, who has been very ill with pneumonia.

Messrs. George Tucker and John McManigal left Tuesday evening for Hot Springs, Ark. Mr. McManigal will extend his trip eastward, to Washington and other points.

Mr. G. B. Faucon, chief clerk to Superintendent Thompson, returned Wednesday from a visit to his old home, Boston. A serious illness detracted much from Mr. F.'s enjoyment of the trip.

Dr. B. F. Hart, father of our popular physician, Dr. C. S. Hart, is a visitor in Lincoln. The Doctor arrived Wednesday evening and intends spending several weeks to become acquainted with the city, this being his first trip.

W. W. Bowley, of the music and art parlor in Montgomery block, will leave the city Feb. 15 to take charge of the piano department of the wholesale and retail house of A. Hoop, of Omaha. Mr. B. has made many friends in Lincoln who will be sorry to see him go. John Croner will take his place in this city.

DRAMATIC NEWS NOTES.

INTERESTING ITEMS REGARDING THE

Favorite of the Footlights—New Plays and New Players.

THE HIDDEN HAND.

Monday evening's attraction at the Funke was Cora Van Tassel in the "Hidden Hand," which called forth a large audience. The play is an old one, but bears repetition when in such clever hands as the Van Tassel company. The special scenery was well mounted and added much to the interest of the play, while the company was, with perhaps one or two exceptions, very good. The part of Capitola, taken by Miss Van Tassel, was cleverly enacted and her dancing most excellent. She is a young actress, and although of but limited stage experience bids fair to make her mark in the world. The character of Wool by Young was undoubtedly the best piece of work done in the evening. His negro specialties are very good and he interprets the role in a very creditable manner. The orchestral music was a leading feature of the evening, the several selections being duly enjoyed.

Monday evening the "Count of Monte Cristo" will be seen at the Funke presented by James O'Neill and his sterling company. The cast includes such notable artists as J. W. Shannon, Newton Dana, Howard Gould, Carroll Fleming, May Wilkes, Kate Fletcher, Grace Raven, Marie Floyd and others, all of whom will appear in Mr. O'Neill's own and only correct version of this play. The scenery is especially fine and the stage setting all that is required to produce the piece in its best manner.

Seats are now on sale at the opera house and indications are that a full house will greet Mr. O'Neill.

A NIGHT OFF NEXT WEEK.

Next Wednesday the new management takes charge of the opera house and as the initial attraction announce the appearance for two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, of Augustin Daly's comedy, "A Night Off," which was seen here last season and delighted an immense audience at the Funke. The company comes from the south, where they have been playing a very successful season. The Charleston Herald of a recent date says: "A large, very refined and highly appreciative audience attended the performance of Augustin Daly's favorite comedy, 'A Night Off' at the opera house last evening. Whether or not the recent earthquakes have caused a submarine upheaval of fine artists we shall not attempt to fathom, but will go on to say that the manager has furnished the local management with a regular overflow of fine talent. There is no denying the fact that the company have raised the stereotyped water mark of traveling troupes away up to the top notch, and everybody appears to make it a business today to tell their neighbors how good the entertainment was. Nothing so intensely funny, so rapid in action, so witty in dialogue, so artistic and metropolitan in every detail has ever been presented at the opera house. There were no stuffed clubs, no red-mounted policemen, no rusty mechanical chestnuts, no syphon fizzes, no singing and dancing, and yet the audience fairly screamed with delight. Seats will be on sale Tuesday morning.

COMING.

Hoyt & Thomas' latest and most successful comedy, "A Hole in the Ground" will occupy the boards at the Funke Wednesday, February 8th. As this is to be its first presentation in Lincoln it will undoubtedly prove a brilliant engagement.

FOOTLIGHT FLASHES.

"She" is a big success in Boston.

Henry E. Abbey has his life insured for $300,000.

Charles A. Byrne's book, "Dreamland" has reached its fourth edition.

Joseph Jefferson begins his usual spring tour of ten weeks, March 18th.

Annie Pixley is presenting her new play of "The Deacon's Daughter" in New York this week.

Miss Jeffreys-Lewis made her first appearance for several seasons in New York Monday night.

Joseph Arthur has written another melodrama in which a steel room figure as a realistic feature.

Robert B. Mantell is presenting "Mombars" in New England. A western trip would pay Mantell largely.

Madame Modjeska will begin a two weeks' engagement Monday at the Fourteenth Street theatre, New York.

The seats for the San Francisco engagement of Edwin Booth and Lawrence Barrett will be sold at auction.

John H. Russell has reached New York, and says that "Natural Gas" is a great big success. He expects to produce it in that city shortly.

Arthur B. Chase, director of the Edwin Booth-Lawrence Barrett company, predicts that the profits of the tour will reach nearly $600,000.

Manager Palmer started a third "Jim the Penman" company out last week. Agnes Booth, Walden Ramsay, Charles Coghlan, Alex. Salvini and Maude Harrison are in the cast.

Frederick Ward, the tragedian, is appearing in Richmond and Norfolk, Va., this week. He is at present making an extensive tour of the large Southern cities, where he is very popular, and always draws large audiences.

Miss Rose Coghlan is negotiating with a prominent manager, and if arrangements contemplated are completed, she will be seen at a Broadway theatre shortly in a handsome production of Charles Coghlan's new play of "Joelyn."

Mrs. Langtry and Mrs. Potter, who are the bitter rivals of the "social stage" met on common ground last week. Philadelphia, where both acted, produced some amusing competition for public favor between the two ex-society queens.

The New York papers believe that young Hofmann, the "miniature Mozart," will not see much of the country this season. When the Metropolitan opera house can be filled with enthusiastic audiences, it would be folly to take the prodigy out on the road.

One of the features of "Anarchy" is the gory head which Carrae, the blood-thirsty anarchist, holds up to view in the gullotine tableau. A number of similar specimens of stock upon piles were to have been used the first night, but it was feared that the public might get too much blood and they have never been shown.

Mr. H. H. Dickinson, late of Ann Arbor, Mich., has located in the city, and taken a position in the operating department of Dr. Lucas' dental parlors. Mr. Dickinson is a gentleman who has a thorough knowledge of the profession, and comes with excellent recommendations. We welcome him to the city and trust his locating among us may be mutually pleasant.

Mr. J. H. McMurtry returned Tuesday from California where he has been spending some time. Bad weather prevailed during most of his stay, and he returns with a very poor impression of the country. Speculation is overdone, values too high, and no money or work for the poor man. He reports Miss Tote as having sufficiently recovered to be about the house when he left.

NOW IN SHIP SHAPE.

Something Regarding the Removal of a

Prominent Mercantile House.

In his new quarters Mr. Hallett, the jeweler, is pleasantly welcoming his large trade, and he justly feels proud of the new store, its central location and the elegant stock he carries, and we do not think it in the least exaggerating when we say Mr. Hallett's new establishment will compare favorably with any similar one in the west. The new place has been elaborately furnished, refitted and put into first class shape. It is the old store formerly occupied by George Fawell, and one to enter it now would scarcely realize it was the same place.

The fixtures are all new and of the very latest pattern, the walls and ceilings have been beautifully ornamented, the show windows made to look attractive to the passerby and in short everything has been accomplished that would make a first class jewelry store. As for the stock which is without doubt the noblest and finest line of jewelry that can be found in the city. It comprises a varied assortment of fine watches, clocks, diamonds, rings, chains, cases, bracelets, etc., and in the large show cases one sees all that pleases the eye and satisfies the desire of the purchaser.

It is now nearly seventeen years since Mr. Hallett first established his business in Lincoln, and since then has been continuously engaged in this line. It would therefore seem to the average person that in catering for so many years to the public, he has certainly acquired a knowledge of the people's wants, and with this fact in view there is certainly good reason why Hallett has and does now enjoy such a large trade and the explicit confidence, from not only Lincolinites, but Nebraskans generally.

In the new store will be found a larger stock and better facilities for transacting his increasing business. In the repair department, as heretofore, Mr. J. V. Putnam will preside as foreman, and of his work patrons of Hallett all speak well. The engraving department is prepared to do all classes of fine manner, such work as monograms, crests, autographs, etc., with a specialty.

In watches, Hallett makes a specialty of fine movements which includes a superb line of the celebrated Peoria watches. They have won a world wide reputation for their accuracy, superior workmanship and fine movement and with each one the strongest guarantee is given, warranting them for years. In diamonds Hallett always has taken the lead, and as heretofore will show the finest and clearest goods at prices that everybody can afford.

The Metropolitan Ball.

Wednesday evening the Metropolitan club gave their second hop of the series. It was attended by about half the membership of the club and proved a very pleasant affair. There were fourteen dances, the music for which was furnished by the Philharmonic orchestra, the last of the number being danced about 1 o'clock, when all repaired to Brown's cafe for refreshments.

Following were present: Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. S. Seligson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Oppenheimer, Mr. and Mrs. Gotthelf, Mrs. M. Oppenheimer, Misses Friend, Nettie and Bertha Seligson, Helwig, Frank, and Messrs. Sol, Henry and Charles Mayer, Hesse, Cahn, Koenigs, Friend, Oppenheimer, Katzenstein and others.

Married.

The Courier has received a copy of the Rockford (Ill.) Gazette, announcing the marriage of Mr. Frank M. Blish of this city and Miss Louise Joslyn of Rockford. Mr. Blish is manager of the R. G. Dunn agency in Lincoln, and is a young man of sterling worth, having a large circle of friends and acquaintances. His handsome and accomplished wife will be a decided acquisition to the social circles of Lincoln, on behalf of whom we bid her thrice welcome. After a short visit to Chicago the happy young couple will return to Lincoln to enjoy the sweets of married life and receive the congratulations of friends.

A Dinner Party.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. McCreary gave a most enjoyable dinner at her residence on H street. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Babcock, Mr. E. Babcock and son, Miss Bistol, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman, Mr. Charles and Miss Hallie Lyman, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brown and Miss Florence Brown.

A Sleighing Party.

Tuesday evening, the 24th, a sleighing party was given by the Pleasant Hour Juniors. They left the city at 7:30 en route to the penitentiary, where they enjoyed a merry dance and bountiful repast, returning to the city in time to see the sun rise.

We are sorry to learn that the evening's enjoyment was greatly marred by a sad accident the unfortunate victim being Rob Muir, one of Lincoln's most promising young men. It seems that upon reaching the suburbs of the city the sleighing proved anything but good, and the driver asked that the gentlemen get out and push, there being no snow at the point. Upon taking their seats against Mr. Muir hit his cheek against an iron protruding from the driver's seat. It was thought at first that he was only slightly cut, and scarcely any notice was taken of it by the merry party, until Miss Dickey, Mr. Muir's company, very thoughtfully suggested that they find out how badly he was hurt. Upon investigation it proved that a deep gash three inches long had been cut in his cheek, and as soon as the party reached the "pen" he was sent back to the city and put under the doctor's care. We are glad to report that he is doing well, and it is hoped no scar will remain.

Employes Banqueted.

About forty persons, twenty-one of them employees of the firm of Hargreaves Bros., were entertained last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hargreaves, at their elegant residence, No. 1528 R street. A splendid dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock, and after due attention had been paid the wealth of delicacies provided, the company listened to a very excellent musical program, in which such well known vocalists as Madame Weber, H. J. W. Seamark and M. T. Harmer appeared. Cards were then brought forward and the balance of the evening spent at the fascinating and interesting of the most wonderful works of nature and of man. Very interesting and instructive. Wonders of the Sea. A description of the most wonderful and mysterious things found at the bottom of the ocean, with photos illustrations. "The Pleasant Excursion" and Other Sketches. By "JONAS ALBANI'S WIFE." A collection of irresistibly funny stories by the most popular humorist writer of the day. "The Aunt Sarah Papers," by CLARA ANTHONY, author of "The Aunt Sarah Papers." A most delicious funny book—every way worth a "Widow's Budget." "Familiar Questions." Containing the right and authoritative answers to many of the questions frequently asked in reading and conversation. "Low Life in New York." A series of vivid pictures showing the dark side of life in the great city. Illustrated. "The Road to Wealth." Not an advertising circular, but a thoroughly practical work, pointing out a way by which all may make money easily, rapidly and honestly. "One Hundred Popular Songs," by MRS. MARY ANNE FLEMING. A beautiful book of the favorites, new and old. "Mr. Noah's Ark." A Novel. By Mrs. ANN B. FLEMING. "An Old Man's Sacrifice." A Novel. By Mrs. ANN B. FLEMING.

After diphtheria, scarlet fever, or pneumonia, Hood's Sarsaparilla will give strength to the system, and expel all poison from the blood.

Death of Warren Brown.

Yesterday morning about half past nine, Mr. Warren Brown breathed his last. He has been ill for quite a long time, being troubled with general debility, but is now free from sickness and pain. He was thirty-one years old, and since his arrival in Lincoln has made a home with his brother, Mr. H. W. Brown on H street, who will take the remains back to the old home in Maine tomorrow.
